Nelson, New Zealand

Estate Grown & Sustainably Accredited
One of New Zealand's Pioneering Wine Families.

The Seifried story began in 1973 when Austrian born Hermann Seifried and his New Zealand wife Agnes had a dream of making wines in New Zealand's sunshine capital - Nelson. From very small and modest beginnings when Hermann and Agnes grafted the vines late into the night, to today when all three Seifried children have returned home to play their part in growing the family business. Seifried Estate is a company devoted to sustainable wine-growing and producing the very best Nelson has to offer.

Pure, varietal and sustainably produced wines is Seifried Estate's focus. Today Seifried harvest grapes from just over 325 hectares of producing vineyards across ten vineyard locations. Each of the Seifried vineyards are located in the beautiful Nelson region and spread over three main soil types – heavy clay loam, sandy silty coastal sites, and rocky river beds.

New Zealand is a land known for its wide open spaces, natural beauty and innovative people. While a relatively young country, New Zealand's natural environment is something that can't be taken for granted. With this comes the NZ wine industry's commitment to looking after this special slice of paradise.

Seifried Estate is proud to be a member of 'Sustainable Wine-growing New Zealand' and was an early adopter of the programme when both the winery and vineyard auditing programs were first established in the New Zealand wine industry in the mid 1990's.
